ANNEX: Procedures to Handle Accounts Receivable and Related Bad Debt Expenses Resulting from Parking Garage User Charges at MIA.

PROCEDURES TO HANDLE ACCOUNTS RECEIVABLE AND RELATED BAD DEBT EXPENSES RESULTING FROM PARKING GARAGE USER CHARGES AT MIA

All accounts receivable from the parking garages at MIA result from customers who either had insufficient funds to pay for their charges or paid for their charges with a worthless check. In handling all accounts receivable, the Management Company (MC) overseeing the parking garages at MIA must adhere to the rules, regulations, procedures, and amendments thereto, listed under Section I. Authority of this O.D.

In addition, the MC must follow the following procedures:

I. Recording and tracking revenue collection:

- A. Enter all transactions into a program called the LARC System (Logistic Account Receivable Collection System).
- B. Post revenue collections daily.
- C. Generate an Aged Account Receivable report every month showing the month of transaction, amounts collected, uncollected, and the amounts approved by the MDAD Project Manager to be voided such as non-functioning Mag Card and disputed fees.

II. Collecting accounts receivable resulting from insufficient funds:

- A. After 10 days, send the first collection letter.
- B. After 30 days, send the second collection letter.
- C. After 45 days, send the third collection letter.

In addition, during this 45 day-period, place and document a minimum of three telephone calls requesting payment.

- D. After 90 days, the receivable is considered uncollectible and is classified as delinquent. All delinquent accounts are submitted to a Collection Agency for further attempt to collect.

III. Collecting accounts receivable resulting from worthless checks:

- A. Upon receiving notification that a check has been returned from the bank, the MC will contact the customer's bank to assess whether a re-deposit is possible. This step must be documented. If possible, a second deposit attempt must be made.

- B. If not possible, the MC shall adhere to the steps for collection delineated in Administrative Order No. 4-86.

IV. Calculating reserve of bad debt expenses:

- A. All accounts receivable balances over 90 days will be reserved 50%.
- B. Balances over 180 days will be reserved at 100%.

V. Writing off uncollectible accounts receivable:

The MC and the MDAD Project Manager must adhere to the procedures delineated in Administrative Order No. 3-9.
